NRIs allowed payments using their foreign mobile numbers

Our Correspondent

NON Resident Indians (NRIs) are allowed to make payments in Unified Payments Interface (UPI) without having to get an Indian mobile number. The National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) has allowed NRIs in 10 countries to digitally transfer funds using the UPI platform from their NRE/NRO accounts.

NRIs with NRE (non-resident external) or NRO (non-resident ordinary) accounts in 10 countries can access UPI services for transactions using their international mobile numbers.

The NPCI has given partner banks time till April 30 to comply with the directions under which non-residents having NRE/NRO accounts will be allowed to transfer funds using their international mobile numbers.

NPCI will be enabling transactions from mobile numbers having country codes of the UAE, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Singapore, Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, USA, and the United Kingdom, along with the current domestic country code. This facility may be extended to other country codes in future.

The only conditions are that the partner banks ensure such accounts are allowed according to the Foreign Exchange Management Act (FEMA) regulations, follow the guidelines of the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) from time to time.

At present, for a person to have a UPI ID, he/she needs an Indian mobile number. When a user activates UPI from an app, for instance Paytm or Google pay, the app sends an SMS confirming that the mobile number is linked to the bank. This meant that those abroad had to keep their India numbers, which is exorbitant owing to international roaming prices.

The NPCI said that now users will be able to access UPI without relying on their India mobile phone number. NRIs who wish to avail this facility need to have a NRE or NRO account. An NRE account is a bank account opened in India in the name of an NRI, to park his foreign earnings whereas, an NRO account is a bank account opened in India in the name of an NRI to manage the income earned by him/her in India.

An NRE account helps NRIs transfer foreign earnings to India, while an NRO account helps them manage the income earned in India.

The development will help international students, family living abroad and local businesses, officials said.

New visa regime in the UAE helps expats stay for long

Our UAE Correspondent

THE UAE's new visa rules and regulatory reforms are encouraging expatriates to stay for long in the country.

The average stay in the UAE by residents is set to increase as the new visa regime will encourage expatriates to stay in long-term visas will increase the country's appeal among skilled and professional workers from the Gulf, Asia and African regions.

The UAE has introduced many new long-term residency permits including Golden Visa, Green Visa, Retirement Visa and Freelance Visa for investors, property buyers, students and pandemic.

Nicki Wilson, Managing Director, Genie Recruitment, believes that having more flexible visas will encourage many individuals to stay long-term in the UAE and also allow high net worth individuals (HNWIs) to settle and plan their future with the UAE in mind.

"With the new longer-term

even longer tenure," he said.

After staying in the country for some time, many skilled and qualified UAE residents opted for permanent residence in other countries to gain a stronger passport ie, Canada, the UK, and Australia. "We might see more individuals staying for longer rather than moving around as frequently."

James Swallow, Commercial Director, PRO Partner Group, said there has been an influx of HNWIs moving to and remaining in the UAE since the launch of the Golden Visa in 2019 as the country has been referred to as a 'millionaire magnet' and the availability of visas to individuals of high net worth make it an attractive destination to live and work.

"Dh2 million investment via property category allows HNWIs to obtain a Golden Visa. Hence, the property value numbers are increasing, reaching record levels towards the back end of 2022. This shows that residents are here to stay, thanks to security and stability," he said.

Between 2019 and mid-November 2022, Dubai's General Directorate of Residency and Foreigners Affairs issued 1,51,666 Golden Visas to investors and professionals, reflecting a steady increase in interest and successful residency approvals for long-term residents.

the country for a longer period, say recruitment and HR consultants.

The UAE has been seen as a transient place, where professionals spend a year or two and then migrate to other countries or return to their home countries. However, the introduction of professionals to attract the best talent from around the world.

Human resources industry executives say the time span of residents in the UAE has increased to over five years and is set to grow further as the country strengthened its position to one of the safest during the visa options, we will see more of a shift in mentality with the average duration spent in the UAE set to increase. It is more often now that we hear of talent having lived in the UAE for a longer term, say five years plus, but the future would see more and more residents have an

Dubai issued 80,000 Golden Visas in 2022

Our Dubai Correspondent

DUBAI issued nearly 80,000 Golden Visas in 2022 to skilled professionals, entrepreneurs and investors, an increase of 69 per cent over the previous year.

The General Directorate of Residency and Foreigners Affairs (GDRFA) in Dubai issued 32,467 more long-term residency visas in 2022 than in the previous year, taking the total to 79,617 in 2022, up from 47,150 in 2021.

The Golden Visa scheme, which was launched in 2019, was recently expanded to include more investor and professional categories. Currently, property investors, professionals, scientists, outstanding students and entrepreneurs can apply for a long-term visa.

Recruitment and HR executives have termed the long-term residency a game changer for the UAE economy and society as it will attract long-term residents, high-net-worth individuals and the best talent from around the world.

In November 2021, over 44,000 residents in Dubai had received long-term residency visas since the launch of the long-term residency scheme. GDRFA revealed in an annual report issued in November 2022 that more than 1,51,600 Golden Visas were issued in Dubai between 2019 and 2022.

Demand for long-term visas for skilled professionals has increased exponentially after the minimum monthly salary requirement was reduced from Dh50,000 to Dh30,000.

The authority said it processed 62.24 million transactions in 2022, including 46.96 million entry and exit transactions through the air and sea ports, up from 37.38 million in the previous year.

This included 9.85 million visa transactions and 4.49 million residency transactions, 40,642 electronic passport transactions, and 37,267 legal consultations.

UAE increases fees for Visas and Emirates ID

Our UAE Correspondent

THE UAE's Federal Authority for Identity, Citizenship, Customs and Ports Security (ICP) has increased the fees for visit, residence visas and the Emirates ID.

The Authority confirmed that the fees for its services had been increased by Dh100 (₹ 2,200).

"The fees of all the services provided by the ICP have been increased by Dh100 for each service," a service agent confirmed.

The hike in fees will apply to services including Emirates ID (national ID) card, residency visas and visit visas.

Some tourism companies also confirmed that the fees had been increased for the tourist visas.

The new fees for the Emirates ID have become Dh370, and the fees for the one-month visitor visa have become Dh370 (₹ 8,180).

This is subject to the number of years for renewal or new issuance. The fees for other services, offered by ICP, has also increased by Dh100. This comes after changes in the visa system that took effect early this year, as the visit visa extension within the country was suspended.

This necessitates leaving the country when the validity of the visa ends and applying for a new one in case of the visitor desired to return to the country.

However, tourists can benefit from the visa exchange system on the same day through travel and tourism companies.

Organic solar cells convert steel roof into a power source

AAT News Service

AN organic solar cell consisting of a combination of an organic polymer and PCBM (an organic semiconductor) developed on steel substrates can potentially convert a steel roof into an energy-producing device with greater efficiency than those currently available in the market.

The potential of third-generation solar cell technologies lies in their integration with flexible and conformal surfaces. However, this integration requires developing new top transparent-conducting electrodes as alternatives to indium tin oxide, an optoelectronic material currently in use and poses limitations because of its brittleness and as its optoelectronic efficiency varies with temperature.

Researchers at IIT, Kanpur have developed organic solar cell devices consisting of a blend of organic polymer PTB7 as a donor and PCBM as an acceptor. The devices were fabricated on opaque steel substrates with a MoO<sub>3</sub>/Au/MoO<sub>3</sub> top electrode. The research, published in the journal Energy Technology, carried out at the laboratory of Prof Ashish Garg at IIT, Kanpur demonstrated the integration of multilayered electrodes of configuration MoO<sub>3</sub>/Au/MoO<sub>3</sub> with the organic solar cells. The devices with multilayer electrodes showed a clear improvement in the photovoltaic performance by 1.5-times, as compared with those obtained with single-layer top metal electrodes of gold.

The materials and device fabrication of perovskite and organic solar cells took place in the Class 10000 facility at IIT, Kanpur, which was funded by DST under the DST-RCUK APEX project.

India reiterates its position as a resilient economy at WEF '23

AAT News Service

IN line with this year's World Economic Forum (WEF) theme, 'Co-operation in a fragmented world', India has reiterated its position as a resilient economy with a strong leadership providing stable policy to the global investors at the WEF Annual Meeting 2023, which concluded recently at Davos. India's focus areas at WEF this year was investment opportunities, infrastructural landscape and its inclusive & sustainable growth story.

Taking forward the strategy and presence of India during WEF Annual Meeting in May 2022, the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT) has taken the initiative to further strengthen India's presence through three lounges with focus on investment opportunity, sustainability and inclusive approach to complement economic growth.

In addition, the presence of state lounges of Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Telangana along with business lounges of HCL, Wipro, Infosys and TCS added strength to India's presence on the Davos promenade. The entire India contingent of the Central/state governments, businesses and officials have put together a common front to present India at the global stage.

India Lounge

The India Lounge was the focal point of all business engagements during the meeting. In line with the Indian government's priorities, the lounge organised sessions, roundtables and fire-side chats on India's growth wave, energy transition, the transforming infrastructure landscape, rising digitalisation, fintech, healthcare, electronics and semiconductor supply chain, and start-up ecosystem.

There was a digital showcase of key manufacturing sectors, start-ups, India's G20 presidency and its focus on infrastructure. Complementing this, the lounge curated authentic Indian One District One Product souvenirs along with Indian food showcasing the country's heritage and culture.

India Inclusivity Lounge

and cultural history and generations of craftsmanship.

The products represented all states and Union territories of India, ranging from coconut cutlery from Andaman to Khurja pottery from Uttar Pradesh. They span across all sectors from textiles to handicrafts to social empowerment.

The products were showcased not only physically, but also using interactive methods through immersive technologies. The Augmented Reality models allowed any person, anywhere in the world to see what an Indi-

A fireside chat was held on 'Climate change and technology: Innovation for the environment' with an audience of 80+ people having panellists from the start-up ecosystem, corporates and think tanks. Discussions around financing technology, adoption challenges, behavioural changes and trends in the cross section of technology and sustainability were also discussed.

inclusivity. Traditionally, only select few big businesses were present at Davos. In 2023, India at Davos had a special lounge that represented the voice of the smaller enterprises, individual artisans, women self-help groups, differently-abled etc. The lounge showcased hand-made products that represent years of rich Indian heritage

NGMA to house 'Maharaja Collection' of Air India artworks

AAT News Service

THE National Gallery of Modern Art will house the precious 'Maharaja Collection' of Air India artworks. India has a 5000-year-old history that has been powered by spiritual forces and moral values. The country will not only become an economic power, but also have cultural resurgence on the global stage, said Jyotiraditya Scindia, Union Minister for Civil Aviation.

Signing an MoU with the Ministry of Culture for handing over the artworks to NGMA, in New Delhi, Mr Scindia said the artists and art collections belonging to Air India will spread awareness about Indian culture worldwide. The exhibition of the art pieces should not be confined to Delhi only, but should be taken worldwide as well as in various parts of the country, showcasing Indian rich cultural heritage and soft power.

Air India has been a pioneer of its own kind. They could not only fly Indian flag high in the sky showcasing India's capabilities, but also acted as an ambassador of Indian heritage and culture. With his forward thinking, the Chairman of Tata Group, JRD

Tata is a pioneer. The showpieces being handed over NGMA not only contain modern art masterpieces, but also have a wide range of exquisite handloom, sculptures and other art pieces.

Signing the MoU, Union Minister for Culture G Kishan Reddy said, through the historic MoU, the priceless artefacts collection of Air India since 1953, is being transferred to

The collection will be displayed for art lovers soon. It will also be opened to audiences abroad through innovative digital interfaces

NGMA. The paintings and artworks will now find their rightful place, ie NGMA. Efforts are being taken to preserve its culture through PM Narendra Modi's vision of 'Vikas Bhi Virasat Bhi' and bring it before the people and establish its connect with the youth. The collection will be displayed for art lovers soon. It will also be opened to audiences abroad through innovative digital interfaces.

During Air India's extensive journey over eighty years of operating as a commercial airline, Air India had acquired and collected a massive number of valuable artworks from around the world consisting of paintings, sculptures, wooden carvings, glass paintings, decorative items, textile art, photographs and other objects. These art objects will be a part of the collection at NGMA.

The decision for acquisition of the priceless collection by the Ministry of Culture and the decision to transfer the collection from the Air India Building at Nariman Point in Mumbai to the NGMA is of historic importance.

The modern and contemporary artwork from the Air India Collection, includes acquired and commissioned work from artists of the stature of B Prabha, Shankar Palsikar, Laxman Pai, Vasudeo Gaitonde, M F Husain, S H Raza, K H Ara and other founders of the Progressive Art Movement like the pioneering artist H A Gade. It also includes works of art of living legends like Anjolie Ela Menon and Jatin Das that will enhance the NGMA collection further.

ASI to begin excavation at Purana Qila

AAT News Service

THE Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) is all set to begin excavation at Delhi's Purana Qila again. The excavation will be led by Vasant Swarnkar, Superintending Archaeologist (Agra), Archaeological Survey of India. This will be the third season of excavation at Purana Qila after excavations in the years 2013-14 and 2017-18.

The objective of the latest excavation is the exposure and preservation of the trenches that were excavated in the previous years (2013-14 and 2017-18). During the closure of the previous season's excavation, evidence of layers predating the Mauryan Period was found.

During this season's excavation, focus would also be to accomplish the traces of Painted Grey Ware finding in stratigraphical context. Identified as ancient settlement of Indraprastha, a continuous habitation of 2500 years at Purana Qila was established in earlier excavations. The findings and artefacts unearthed in earlier excavations comprises Painted Grey Ware, belonging to 900 BC, an earthen pottery sequence from Mauryas to Shunga, Kushan Empire, Gupta, Rajput, Sultanates and Mughal periods.

Excavated artefacts, such as sickles, parers, terracotta toys, kiln-burnt bricks, beads, terracotta figurines, seal and dealings etc, excavated earlier are now displayed at the Archaeological Museum inside the fort complex.

Purana Qila, the 16th-Century fort, was built by Sher Shah Suri and second Mughal Emperor Humayun. The fort is standing on a site with thousands of years of history. Padma Vibhushan Prof B B Lal also carried out excavation works inside the fort and its premises in the years 1954 and 1969-73.

Need for just, equitable development of all: Min

World should focus on the brighter sides of women empowerment. It should reorient the focus from women development to women-led development

AAT News Service

INDIA's vision is to promote a universal sense of oneness and work together to shape a new paradigm of human-centric globalisation where no one will remain behind. There is a need for just and equitable development of all, said Arjun Munda, Union Minister for Tribal Affairs. Addressing a gathering of more than 1,800 students from various corners of the state during the first meeting of G20 Working Group on 'Global partnership for financial inclusion', in West Bengal, Mr Munda said with a vision of 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam', the country strives for a human-centric globalisation where no one is left behind. The process of financial inclusion paves the way for currency management, which enhances the saving potential, leading to social security and ensuring quality life. "There is a need for students to have financial literacy in proper way so that they don't get duped in the long run. Our forefathers liberated India from the shackles of British tyranny and helped the country shine. When the country will attain 100 years of its independence – Amrit Kaal – there will be no differences at all," said Mr Munda. "Hosting the G20 Summit is an historic opportunity for our country, being the premier forum for international economic co-operation representing around 85 per cent of the global GDP. India has rich ancient sustainable traditions to nudge consumers and in turn markets to adopt environmentally-conscious practices. "In the last many years we have destroyed our planet and environment. This has had an adverse impact on our climate and ecology. There must be a global vision for ecological safeguard, or else we will sink together," said the minister. Focussing on the brighter sides of women empowerment, Mr Munda said "it is time for the world to reorient the focus from women development to women-led development. There is a need for financial inclusion for people's economic empowerment and it is a bedrock of our development strategy. One of our key priorities is to deliver financial services to the last mile and to the poorest of the poor across the country".

Composition fee for export obligation extension simplified

AAT News Service

THE Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has notified the amended rules for calculation of composition fee for extending export obligation under Advance Authorisation Scheme by amending Para 4.42 of Handbook of Procedures (2015-20) vide Public Notice No 52/2015-20 dated January 18, 2023. The simplification of calculations for composition fee helps in automation and faster service delivery by making the process more efficient and easier to understand. The previous formula for composition fee was convoluted and difficult to understand, which made the process more tedious and strenuous for exporters. However, the revised composition fee formula, which is based on a specific rate for different levels of the 'CIF (Cost, Insurance, and Freight) Value of Authorisation', is more straightforward and easier to calculate. This will help automate the entire export obligation extension process with minimal human intervention, further eliminating the risk of errors and misconceptions. Automation of the process will reduce the need for manual calculations and paperwork, which will ultimately lead to faster service delivery. This will be beneficial to exporters as it will reduce the time and efforts required to complete the export obligation extension process. Additionally, automation will also reduce the risk of errors and misconceptions, which will further improve the efficiency of the process. The process of automation is being taken up under the IT revamp project of DGFT and shall be notified separately. Simplification of calculations also helps in the 'ease of doing business' objective by reducing the complexity and making the process more straightforward for exporters.

THE ambitious scheme of One Nation One Ration Card (ONORC) across the country has brought a lot of relief to the poor. The Central government has provided free food grains to the poor, worth ₹ 3.90 lakh crore, through Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana (PM-GKAY). It has made a record purchase of ₹ 2.75 lakh grains (rice/wheat) to about 80-crore beneficiaries under the National Food Security Act (NFSA), Antyodaya Anna Yojana and priority households beneficiaries at the scale of five kgs per person per month under the PM-GKAY, under which 1,118 lakh metric tonnes (LMTs) food grains have been allocated to states/UTs so far, with an expenditure of over ₹ 3.90 lakh crore, said the minister.

ONORC Scheme in August 2019, more than 93-crore portability transactions have been registered under the scheme, in which more than 177 LMTs food grains have been distributed. During the year 2022, 39-crore portability transactions were done in 11 months, in which more than 80 LMTs food grains have been distributed, including inter-state and intra-state portability transactions of NFSA and PM-of fortified rice was distributed. The implementation of the third phase will start from the year 2023-24, in which some remaining districts of the country will also be covered. Under the reforms of TPDS, 100 per cent NFSA ration card/beneficiary data has been digitised in all states/UTs. Details of 19.5-crore ration cards covering about 80-crore beneficiaries are available on the transparency portal of crore on MSP (minimum support price) in the year 2021-22, said Narendra Singh Tomar, Union Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food & Public Distribution and Agriculture. The scheme ameliorates the hardships faced by the poor people due to economic disruptions caused by the Covid-19 pandemic. To minimise its impact on food security, the Central government distributed additional free-of-cost food

Various Central government schemes including ONORC, distribution of fortified rice, targeted public distribution scheme (TPDS) etc, are being extended to all beneficiaries. Starting with portability among four states in August 2019, till now the scheme has been rolled out in all 36 states/UTs, which includes about 80-crore NFSA beneficiaries i.e. about 100 per cent of the country's NFSA population. Since the launch of the GKAY, said Mr Tomar. In order to increase the nutritional value of rice and its scope, fortified rice is being provided under all government schemes. The first phase (FY 2021-22) covered Integrated Child Development Services (ICDS) and PM-Poshan in the states/UTs. More than 17 LMTs of fortified rice was distributed during this phase. During the second phase of the scheme, over 16.79 LMTs the states/UTs, said the minister. Ninety-nine per cent ration cards are linked with Aadhaar (at least one member of the household) and over five lakh Fair Price Shops are being automated with the use of electronic point-of-sale devices for transparency, assuring distribution of subsidised food grains to the beneficiaries. has been an increase of 132 per cent in the procurement price in eight years (now the total value is about ₹ 1.5 lakh crore). At the same time, during the Rabi Marketing Season (RMS) 2022-23, more than 187 LMTs wheat has been procured, benefitting about 17 lakh farmers, with an MSP of about ₹ 38,000 crore. Rabi procurement was 251 LMTs in 2013-14, which has increased to 433.44 LMTs in 2021-22 (73 per cent increase). In eight years, there has been an increase of 152 per cent in the purchase price (now the total price is about ₹ 85,000 crore). The total procurement of food grains (including wheat, paddy and pulses) was 759.44 LTs in the year 2014-15, which from the procurement of food grains, which increased to 194 lakh (number of farmers) in the year 2021-22. Similarly, 13 LTs of coarse grains have also been procured in seven states during the year, said the minister. The Indian sugar industry is an important agro-based industry, involving five-crore sugarcane farmers. Today, the annual production of the sugar industry is about ₹ 1,40,000 crore. In sugar seasons 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20, around 6.2 LMTs, 38 LMTs and 59.60 LMTs sugar has been exported, respectively. About 70 LMTs has been exported against the target of 60 LMTs in Sugar Season 2020-21. In the Sugar Season 2021-22, India exported more than cleared to the farmers, thus more than 97 per cent cane arrears have been cleared. Regarding ethanol blending plan in petrol, Mr Tomar said that the Central government has set a target of 10 per cent blending of fuel grade ethanol with petrol by 2022 and 20 per cent blending by 2025. The existing capacity of ethanol production in the country has jumped to 925 crore litres. India has made a significant jump in the Ease Of Doing Business (EODB) ranking of the World Bank. Among 190 countries in the EODB Report 2020, the country has jumped from 134th position in 2013 to 63rd, i.e. a jump of 71 ranks from 2013.

NRIs deserve tax reliefs in budget

THE Union budget will be presented in less than ten days from now. This is that time of the year when Non-Resident Indians (NRIs) are reckoned for their contribution to the national GDP by way of foreign exchange remittances. It is an irony that they are ignored or pressured as far as new taxations or reliefs are concerned. They deserve to get some benefits that can help them save on taxes and add their income.

It is natural that NRIs hope some incentives and reliefs. Currently all the income NRIs get in India are subject to highest rate of tax or rate specified in DTAA (Double Taxation Avoidance Agreements) with respective countries. Example is rent incomes are subject to 30 per cent TDS. Also, when an NRI sells a property, the buyer is required to deduct TDS at 20 per cent on the sale amount, even if there is a loss incurred on the property.

NRIs are allowed to remit up to $1 million from their non-resident account after they furnish the necessary documentary evidence. Remittance exceeding $1 million requires special permission from the Reserve Bank of India. The remittance limit needs to be raised from $1 million to a reasonable amount since the limit has been unchanged for many years. There has been growing need to remit more money abroad for purposes like children's education, medical purpose and buying properties.

On the personal income tax front, no relief was given in the past. The new slab system has not been beneficial for taxpayers and therefore not many have opted for it. The basic exemption limit needs to be increased from ₹ 2.5 lakh per year, as it has not been changed for many years. There should also be rethinking on tax on long-term equity investments for NRIs.

Over 5000 LMT sugarcane produced in 2021-22 season

AAT News Service

THE year 2021-22 has proven to be a watershed season for Indian sugar sector. All records of sugarcane production, sugar production, sugar exports, cane procured, cane dues paid and ethanol production were made during the season.

During the season, record more than 5,000 lakh metric tonnes (LMT) sugarcane was produced in the country out of which about 3,574 LMT of sugarcane was crushed by sugar mills to produce about 394 lakh MT of sugar (sucrose), out of which 36 lakh MT sugar was diverted to ethanol production and 359 LMT sugar was produced by sugar mills. India has emerged as the world's largest producer and consumer of sugar as well as the world's 2nd largest exporter of sugar after Brazil, in sugar season (October-September) 2021-22.

In every sugar season, production of sugar is around 320-360 LMT as against domestic consumption of 260-280 LMT which results in huge carry over stock of sugar with mills. Due to excess availability of sugar in India, ex-mill prices of sugar remain subdued resulting in cash loss to sugar mills. This excess stock of about 60-80 LMT also leads to blockage of funds and affects liquidity of sugar mills resulting in accumulation of cane price arrears.

With a view to prevent cash loss to sugar mills caused due to subdued sugar prices, government in June 2018 introduced the concept of minimum selling price (MSP) of sugar and fixed MSP of sugar at ₹ 29/kg which was revised to ₹ 31/kg with effect from February 14, 2019. Timely intervention of Central government have been crucial in building the sugar sector step-by-step from taking them out of financial distress in 2018-19 to the stage of self-sufficiency in 2021-22.

The Union Minister of State for Commerce & Industry, Som Prakash, spoke about how government has been providing handholding and support to the startups of the country, in terms 2022 report was also released on the occasion. The report provides detailed insight into the support provided to previous National Startup Awards recognised startups and National Startup Awards 2022 winners. The MAARG platform was also launched during the felicitation ceremony.

The platform is envisioned to facilitate mentorship between startups and entrepreneurs across sectors, stages and functions. There are over 600 mentors and over 800 startups registered on the platform currently. The portal will now allow for live matchmaking of mentors with startups, helping startups to access the guidance that will help them grow and increase their impact in India and globally.

The third edition of National Startup Awards was launched on February 1, 2022. In line with Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, National Startup Awards 2022 acknowledges startups and enablers who have been instrumental in revolutionising the development story of India and in demonstrating exceptional capabilities not just in terms of financial gains but also for the measurable impact on society.

National Startup Awards 2022 focussed extensively on diversity, inclusion and innovation. A total of 2,667 applications were received from startups, incubators and accelerators from 31 states and Union territories across the country. In this third edition, 41 startups, 2 incubators, and 1 accelerator were recognised as winners in their respective categories. Winners have emerged from tier-2 and tier-3 cities, indicating the spread of the spirit of entrepreneurship and innovation across the last mile in the country.

Government focusses on newer, better ideas to improve efficiency

Public Distribution and Textiles, Piyush Goyal. He was addressing the National Startup Awards 2022 in New Delhi. The minister congratulated all winners and expressed hope that the award would inspire them further and expand their horizons.

Applauding the Prime Minister, Narendra Modi as being both a generator and incubator of brilliant innovations to address the challenges that we as a nation face, Mr Goyal said, under his visionary leadership, the idea of Startup India had taken root for a powerful, resurgent India, a nation recognised as an emerging growth story, set to drive global growth.

Mr Goyal noted that the Prime Minister placed great focus on speed, skill and scale in the execution of projects. Citing the example of Digital India Mission launched in 2015, he said that early on, Mr Modi had recognised that unless Digital India was taken to the remotest corners of the country, the vision of equitable development wouldn't become a reality. Initiatives like startups and unicorns, Open Network for Digital Commerce (ONDC) which will democratise e-Commerce and save millions of mom and pop stores across the country and JAM (Jan Dhan-Aadhaar-Mobile) Trinity that ensured that the truly deserving received assistance from the government directly, ushering in honesty, integrity and transparency in entire system.

The minister appreciated the Mentorship, Advisory, Assistance, Resilience and Growth (MAARG) portal and said it would help fo-

THE government has launched Digital India programme with the vision of transforming India into a digitally empowered society and a knowledge-based economy, by ensuring digital access, digital inclusion, digital empowerment and bridging the digital divide.

The programme is centred on three key vision areas, namely digital infrastructure as a core utility to every citizen, governance and services on demand, and digital empowerment of citizens. The overall goal is to ensure that digital technologies improve the life of every citizen, expand India's digital economy, and create investment and employment opportunities and also create digital technological capabilities in India, said the Union Minister of State for Electronics and Information Technology, Rajeev Chandrasekhar.

The minister said, Digital India has considerably reduced the distance between government and citizens. It has also helped in delivery of substantial services directly to the beneficiary in a transparent and corruption free manner. In the process, India has emerged as one of the pre-eminent nations of the world to use technology to transform the lives of its citizens.

Digital India is an umbrella programme that covers multiple projects of various Central ministries/departments and states and Union territories (UTs).

The government had launched India BPO Promotion Scheme (IBPS) and the North East BPO Promotion Scheme (NEBPS) under Digital India programme, with the aim of creating employment opportunities and dispersal of information technology and Information Technology enabled Services (ITeS) industry in small cities and towns by incentivising the setting up of business process outsourcing (BPO) and ITeS operations by providing financial support of up to ₹ 1 lakh per seat in the form of viability gap funding towards capital and operational expenditures.
